PROFILE

Sue is an NMC-registered, dual-trained nurse who qualified in Adult Nursing in 1994 and Paediatric Nursing in 2000. She brings over 30 years of experience across NHS, private, and community healthcare sectors. She began her career in adult surgical nursing and later gained valuable international experience practising in Australia. Following her return to the UK, she fulfilled her ambition to specialise in paediatric nursing.

Since then, Sue has developed extensive expertise across both paediatric inpatient and community services. Prior to leaving the NHS, she held senior clinical and managerial roles, where she built strong leadership capabilities, gained significant multidisciplinary working experience, and demonstrated a consistent ability to deliver safe, effective, and high-quality patient care across both acute and community settings.

Sue has extensive experience in the assessment, implementation, mobilisation, monitoring, and review of complex care packages for both adults and children. She has worked with clients presenting with acquired and traumatic brain injuries, spinal injuries, neurological conditions, complex respiratory needs, epilepsy, and life-limiting or developmental conditions. She is highly skilled in undertaking comprehensive care needs assessments and developing robust, evidence-based care plans that support safe, sustainable, and person-centred care delivery in accordance with professional and regulatory standards.

Sue's senior clinical governance background provides a strong foundation for producing detailed, structured, and analytical reports. She has significant experience reviewing healthcare records, identifying clinical risk, evaluating standards of care, and forming balanced, objective professional opinions supported by national guidance, including NMC standards, NICE guidance, and safeguarding legislation. Her experience in clinical audit, incident investigation, root cause analysis, and quality improvement further strengthens her ability to critically evaluate care delivery and clinical decision-making.

Sue has worked closely with case managers, commissioners, multidisciplinary teams, and external agencies. She has regularly attended and contributed to complex multidisciplinary meetings, providing specialist clinical advice to support care planning, risk management, and service coordination. Her collaborative approach enables her to consider differing professional perspectives and present clear, well-reasoned, and impartial clinical opinions.

Sue demonstrates a strong commitment to professional accountability and maintains a thorough understanding of the responsibilities associated with medico-legal practice. She is dedicated to providing independent, evidence-based expert opinion and has a clear understanding of the Civil Procedure Rules and the duties of an expert witness. She has also completed comprehensive in-house medico-legal training and has been mentored by experienced expert witnesses at Fiona Johnson Limited.
